

Aggression Against Ukraine

The General Assembly,

□ PP1 Reaffirming the paramount importance of the Charter of the United Nations in the promotion of the rule of law among nations;

PP2 Recalling the obligation of all States under Article 2 of the United Nations Charter to refrain in their international relations from the threat or use of force against the territorial integrity or political independence of any state, or in any other manner inconsistent with the purposes of the United Nations, and to settle their international disputes by peaceful means;

PP3 Recalling also the obligation under Article 2 (2) of the United Nations Charter, that all Members, in order to ensure to all of them the rights and benefits resulting from membership, shall fulfill in good faith the obligations assumed by them in accordance with the present Charter;

PP4 Taking note of Security Council resolution 2623 (2022) of 27 February 2022, calling for an emergency special session of the General Assembly to examine the question contained in document S/Agenda/8979;

PP5 Recalling General Assembly resolution 377 A (V) "Uniting for Peace" and taking into account that the lack of unanimity of its permanent members at the 8979th meeting of the Security Council has prevented it from exercising its primary responsibility for the maintenance of international peace and security;

PP6 Recalling also its resolution 2625 (XXV) of 24 October 1970, in which it approved the Declaration on Principles of International Law concerning Friendly Relations and Cooperation among States in accordance with the Charter of the United Nations, and reaffirming the principles contained therein that the territory of a State shall not be the object of acquisition by another State resulting from the threat or use of force, and that any attempt aimed at the partial or total disruption of the national unity and territorial integrity of a State or country or at its political independence is incompatible with the purposes and principles of the Charter;

PP7 Recalling also its resolution 3314 (XXIX) of 14 December 1974, which defines aggression as the use of armed force by a State against the sovereignty, territorial integrity or political independence of another State, or in any other manner inconsistent with the Charter of the United Nations;

PP8 Bearing in mind the importance of maintaining and strengthening international peace founded upon freedom, equality, justice and respect for human rights and of developing friendly relations among nations irrespective of their political, economic and social systems or the levels of their development;
